

We Are the Ones

We've lived through a thousand suns
We've fought through our lives and won
And when all else is said and done
We are the lucky ones

We've seen war with deadly guns
We've lost all our handsome sons
And when all else is said and done
We are the troubled ones

We've been once a child and young
We've now had our stories spun
And when once our lives are done
We are the shadow ones
